EXPERTISE & ANALYTICS IN ACTION

HEALTHCARE

Ascellon's interdisciplinary teams of medical professionals (physicians, registered nurses, social workers, pharmacists, therapists, medical coders, etc) and technical experts (statisticians, economists, investigators, ect.) have the experience and knowledge to assist our customers in complying with regulations and standards affecting quality of care. We have broad expertise and experience in healthcare issues, and particular expertise in Medicare and Medicaid programs.

Our scope of services and expertise range from review of payment systems, medical record facility inspection, analysis of reimbursement patterns, and elimination of fraud, waste and abuse in government funded healthcare programs.

Ascellon Corporation is a trusted advisor to government agencies in the fight to eliminate fraud, waste and abuse. With our expert medical coding professionals, statisticians, economists, and investigators, Ascellon is able to provide full service Medical Record Review and Auditing services to the federal government and in turn save the government billions of dollars.

Utilizing technology and specialized staff, Ascellon is able to perform both onsite and remote Medical Record Coding. We have the capability to perform full service medical record reviews and provide 95% or better coding accuracy. Our coding application has advanced built-in features to help assure that each assigned record is coded within a designated time limit.

Ascellon's approach to Medical Record Audit services is a collaborative effort involving clinical and technical professionals and various tools. We compare pre and post audit data using programs to identify the frequency and financial impact of ICD-9 and HCPCS coding errors. Our customized audit approach is based on a thorough assessment of all factors that influence medical record coding and timely reimbursement and accuracy.
